

To: Hedrick, Elizabeth[Hedrick.Elizabeth@epa.gov]
From: articles@cnpapers.com
Sent: Fri 1/31/2014 12:13:02 AM
Subject: [Charleston Newspapers] Article - New studies of MCHM leak's impacts funded

Ex. 6 - Personal Privacy sent you this article

January 30, 2014

New studies of MCHM leak's impacts funded

By Ken Ward Jr.

The Charleston Gazette

CHARLESTON, W.Va. -- Researchers from three universities have received emergency funding for studies of the long-term impacts of the Jan. 9 Elk River chemical leak, including an examination of whether the "flushing" advised by state officials and the water company adequately cleared toxic chemicals from home plumbing systems.

Read more
